At Pangborn, when a newspaper man, displayed half the ingenuity and originality he has since his advent with the B. O. he certainly must have kept things lively. He is out with another B.
& O. book, as wholly different in conception and general style from last week's publication as possible to imagine. The latest is entitled "Mountain and Valley Resorts," and is a most exquisite thing.
It is printed upon heavy paper: the views of the different resorts most exquisitely rendered (no one can tell how many colors), and counterfeiting nature to perfection. The letter-press is in maroon, and throughout the reading pages are ornamental panels in various shades, and producing lovely contrasts. The book is a gem, and unquestionably reaches the highest standard of art yet accomplished by any railroad company. As usual, a request made by mail to C. K. Lord, G.
P. A., Baltimore, with a two cent stamp for postage, will secure a copy.

Two or more men broke into the first ward school building last night at a late hour by smashing out a pane of glass in one of the first floor windows. They went through the different rooms and left mud on the floors. They opened boxes of pens and chalk and rifled the desk of Miss Anna Tinkler, one of the teachers, from which they took about fifty cents in small change. The condition of things this morning indicated that the ruffians held a "convention" in Miss Alida Handy's room where they smeared the floor with tobacco juice and quids.
The janitor was at the building as late as ten o'clock and then there were no looters about the premises. Mrs. Gastman will pay ten dollars for the arrest and conviction of the vandals and robbers.

A QUIET 80 Years Old.
The other day the Republican made mention of the fact that Mrs. James Cook, of Macon, (formerly Aunt Sally Jones, of this city), had a quilt in her possession 50 years old which she prized highly as an heirloom. Decatur can go her 30 years better. Mrs. J. R. Gorin, of West Prairie street, has a well-preserved cotton quilt in her possession 80 years old which was made by her mother, whose maiden name was Rebecca Brown. When this quilt was made Miss Brown lived in Virginia, and she was 16 years of age.
Miss Brown with her own hands spun the flax thread with which the quilt was quilted. The old relic of the Brown family has been in possession of Mrs. Gorin for many years, and she guards it jealously.
Macon will have to "come again."

Heid to Bail.
The case of The People against J. P.
Manard and Barney Hadley, Washbraken, was disposed of in Justice Curtis' court this forenoon, the magistrate holding both to await the action of the May grand jury, fixing the bail at $200 each, in default of which both were sent back to the county jail. The brakenmen were charged with wilfully and malicious-ly combining together to hinder and obstruct the regular running of a regular Wabash freight train on April 18th. Mr.
John appeared for the people, and Mr.
Lee for the defendants. The evidence showed that Manard and Hadley were intoxicated, and were not allowed to go out on their train. A row ensued, in the course of which they were precipitated, and the train was delayed in its departure from 6:40 to 8:35, in consequence of the incident. The complaint was made by George L. Andrews, the Wabash trainmaster.

At Bloomington yesterday Hon. B. F.
Funk, Republican, defeated Mr. Trotter, Democrat, for mayor, 355 votes, and the Republicans also made a gain of three aldermen. The next council will stand eight Republican aldermen, four Democratic, with a Republican mayor. Bloomington has done well.

The Woody Case.
The case of The People vs. William Woody, arrested on complaint of O. E.
Sackett for causing an alleged illegal vote in the third ward, this city, on April 15, came up for trial before Justice Curtis this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. John for the People and Mr. Lee for the defendant.
The poll books show that Woody voted at the township election at Warren-burg on April 1st, and that he also voted in the third ward, this city, on April 15th. He had lived at Warren-burg long enough to claim that place as his voting place, but he certainly violated the law at one place or the other. A large number of people from Warrenburg are here to testify as to the fact that Woody voted at that place. It acquitted on the charge of voting illegally in Decatur; if prosecuted he may be convicted for voting at Warrenburg. The penalty is a fine not exceeding $1,000 and imprisonment in the county jail.

Fifth Ward Improvements.
Messrs. William Dodson and Andrew Shoemaker are arranging to put up a $6,000 two-story well front apartment tenement house on East Eldorado street, two doors west of the Shoemaker residence. The frontage will be 70 feet, and the depth 36 feet. The basement will be of brick and the upper stories frame. The building, which will front south, will command good rental value, and will find plenty of occupants.

During the past season quite a number of residences have been put up in the ward.

Mrs. Longkelp has put up two dwellings, one costing $1500 and the other $300. a17-dltf

Mr. Joyce put up one house worth $900 and Mrs. Gibbons one worth $300.

Mrs. Michael Lyons will have a $1,000 house put up at once on East North street, beyond the Central road.

How to Raise Money.
The Baptist Sunday school have hit upon a novel plan for raising money to repair their room. On each Sunday those members whose birthday has occurred during the preceding week drop into a special box a sum equal to the number of their years. The two extremes of life were represented last Sunday, when 75 cents was deposited by one scholar and two cents by another.—Kankakee Gazette.

Last night Marshal Mason arrested Thomas A. Williams, who was wanted at Washington, Ind., on a charge of embe-zlement. It is asserted that Williams got away with $175. To-day Mason notified the authorities at Washington of the capture of Williams. Sheriff Ward came after Williams to-day.

Chicago Musical College.
The regular fourth term of the College will open on Monday, April 23. This will be the last term before the summer vacation. On Wednesday, April 23, there will be a Chopin recital given by Miss Hittcock. A short biographical sketch of his life will also be read. Violin selections and vocal numbers by Prof. Olof Bull and Miss Alice Freeman. The programmes will be wholly Chopin.

Pupils and their parents are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. S. B. Oakes, April 22—421 Vocal Principal.

Tax city council did not table the resolution the other night, offered by Ald.
Roberts to form the city into drainage or sewerage districts. The resolution was adopted. Mayor Chambers is now in correspondence with competent engineers who will be employed to do the work.

Reunion.
At a meeting of Keneaw Post No. 77, G. A. R. at Danville, it was agreed to hold a soldiers' reunion on the 24th of June, provided, if the citizens of Danville and Vermilion county feel interested enough to raise about $1,200 or $1,500 in money to defray the actual expenses.

A party told me to-day that he had been busy indulging his brain since Sunday, devising a scheme by which Decatur people might be furnished beer in future.
The scheme is a simple and economical plan, and at last he was ready to shout "Eureka," for he believes he has struck a bonanza. His plan is this: Make excavations and lay pipes connecting with all the business houses and residences in the town, and bear on the people having beer delivered promptly, and the amount drank can be learned by using metres, similar to those used by the gas companies. This man who has a "great head" says the beer can be cooled at the brewery, and that if it is swallowed speedily, as he thinks it will be, then the beer will be in a cool and drinkable state even in the hottest weather.
The anti-monopolists may oppose this scheme.

"No man can sit on a fence and plant oats," and neither can any of the town loafers hang about the street corners and pay their debts. Besides, it is only a question of time when they will either get the chain gang or go to the poor house.

Samuel Allen told me yesterday that he is making arrangements to sell 50 to 60 lots in his land at the east end of Eldorado. He has two lots of 100 acres each, he also remarked that he intended putting up a $2,000 two-story frame, on one lot, which will serve as a pattern for those who will buy lots.

I met a Decatur traveling man to-day who was in St. Louis last Sunday and attended a burlesque performance at the Theatre Comique. The commercial travelers say one of the singers was Prof.
Dorrest and a Decatur lady, who sang well and received rapturous applause.
They were down on the programme under assumed names. The Comique users after the drummer, the Decatur artists had made a great hit. Prof. Dor-rest went to St. Louis some months ago in the interest of the Juney electric light company, but it seems he has drifted back again into his old role, that of a opera singer.

One of the license aldermen told me to-day that he hoped some arrangement might be made by which licenses could be issued. This alderman believes that the wiping out of the whisky traffic will seriously injure the business interests of the town, for he said it will make vacant at least 20 store rooms and then throw out of employment 200 men.

Billy Downing handed the Republican a complimentary ticket the other day to use the Driving Park north of town the coming season. It is a nice track of the regulation width and slope, and is a splendid place to get an airing. Let's all go out.

Riley Dimes is one of the busiest men in Decatur since he entered upon his duties at the St. Nicholas. He seats the guests at the tables, manages the help, and is the purveyor for the establishment, besides helping Charley Laux do the honors of the hotel.

I met a great many strangers on the streets to-day. Those with whom I converse say Decatur is the most prosperous looking and stylish town of its size in the west. They don't say this to give our citizens a high opinion of their town, but Decatur is a nice town, and when our streets are properly paved it will be a much handsomer place.

High School Alumni.
The committees having in charge the festival of the High School Alumni are requested to meet this evening at 7 o'clock, at the residence of J. W. Haworth.

The ladies will give a sociable and festival in the lecture room at the First M.
E. church next Thursday evening. Admission free. All invited.

The Carpenter Case.
Mr. Carpenter, of Lincoln, has decided to leave his home and seek a new one in some part of the world, where he is unknown. For some time past he has been quietly selling his property and disposing of his business interests. He recently offered for sale his residence in Lincoln, at a very low price, and seems anxious to find a buyer. He has not confided to any one the secret of his future location. It is thought by some that he will finally settle in some foreign country and change his name. If innocent this is certainly a terrible burden to bear, and if guilty, the punishment is much more severe than any found in the statute books.

Sons of Veterans.
At a meeting held at the city clerk's office, on Monday evening, for the purpose of organizing a Camp of Sons of Veterans in Decatur, John J. H. Young jr. was chosen chairman, and H. M.
Moore, secretary.

On motion of C. M. Darfee all those desiring to organize a camp were requested to sign an application for a charter.

The following names were given in application: Charles M. Darfee, John Grass, jr., H. M. Moore, John T. Reynolds, J. J.
H. Young, jr., J. H. Durfee, Charles W.
Hartley, Logan Phillips, Harvey W.
Shockey and W. C. Johns.

A committee was appointed to secure a place of meeting, and issue a call for said meeting.

C. F. Wilcox kindly explained the objects of organization, of which he is an active member. HARRY M. MOORE, Secretary.

In Season.
Spring has come, the grass is growing and the festive lawn-mower is in demand.
Morehouse, Wells & Co. advertise in today's paper the "Pennsylvania" and the "Quaker City"—the best lawn-mowers in the market. Read their advertisement on our fourth page, give them a call, buy a lawn-mower, and give them a happy.

Minstrelsy—A New Departure.
The Leon & Cushman specialty minstrel troupe will give a surprise party performance at the opera house Saturday, of which the Washington Star says: "The usual opening is dispensed with, and an entertainment is given comprising burlesque drama, entre opera and an eccentric ballet, in addition to a pleasing musical feature and many of the most popular melodies of the best minstrel shows, by such artists as Frank Cushman, the only Leon, the great Engage, James Q.
Casey, Frank Casey, the Hogan Brothers, and others. The performance is funny without coarseness, and was greeted with shouts of laughter. Among the special features is "Ill-Fed-Dora," a burlesque of Bardol's drama; the College Boys, Leon's Burdette, the burlesque ballet and the grand march of the Silver Knights." The admission will be 35, 50 and 75 cents.

FRANK DENNIS was arrested yesterday afternoon for assaulting his wife. Mrs.
Dennis says Frank wanted money to spend with low white women, and she wouldn't let him have even a nickel. A row ensued during which Frank struck his wife twice, but inflicted no serious bruises. Constable Barrie made the arrest.

The tabernacle was about two-thirds filled last night on the occasion of the temperance jubilee and ratification meeting held over the result of Tuesday's election. The chairman was J. Stebbins King, and the secretary L. H. Clark. J. S. Post also occupied the stage. A characteristic talk was made by M. P. Murphy, who advocated sobriety, no-licensing, and gave reminders of the early days. He was frequently applauded. J. S. Post also made a short talk, and "Bro. Jake" Hoot-stiller, who happened to be in the city, was called to the platform. In a few minutes he got the audience completely waked up, and took his seat amidst a shout of applause.

RESOLUTIONS.
The following preamble and resolutions were read and adopted:

WHEREAS, the saloon men (with a few honorable exceptions) have constantly violated the laws of our city and state, showing the policy of license to be a failure in protecting drunkenness and selling liquors to absolute drunkards and minors, and in order to keep the drunk shops closed on Sunday, even though arrested by police authority, which has been enabled by the partnership between the city and the dram shops, by the former renting money for licenses, and the latter paying for the same, and in order to terminate this partnership by taking no more of the drunk money, and by no longer being a party to wrong doing, therefore be it Resolved, That we as temperance men, pledge ourselves to support and sustain the mayor of our city and head of the police department, as well as the subordinate, in all of their efforts to keep the saloons closed and to keep the city clean.

Resolved, That our temperance victory is largely due to the labors and eloquence of Mrs.
Lucy Simpson, and that we hereby tender our warmest thanks for her services.

Resolved, That the above resolutions be published in our city papers.

WARD COMMITTEES.
The following committees were appointed to do duty during the year and at the next city election in advancing the interest of no-licensing:

A REMEDY for Rheumatism, which little one from a condition of helplessness and makes life worth living, is described by Mr. D. L. Southard, a prominent citizen of Greencastle, Ind. He says: "For six weeks I grew worse under an attack of Rheumatism, though I had good medical treatment; could not move without great pain, and had to be helped. Bishop Bowman brought me a bottle of ANTI-RO-ROS. Began taking it in the morning.
That night I slept free from pain. The next morning I felt like a well man."
